Women on their Knees

On the following pages there are personalized scripture prayers that we can pray for ourselves, as wives, and also prayers that we can pray for our husbands. There are one set of prayer(s) for each day of the month. The prayer requests for our husbands on DAY 1 are suggested to be prayed each day of the month. Day 31 (for our husbands) is left blank for you to fill in with scripture petitions that you may want to include when praying for your husband. Also, ask your husband daily for any specific requests he may have before he leaves each morning, if that's a good time. Remember to check and see each evening how things went that day. God is faithful!

Praying according to God's Word is praying according to His will, and then we can ask with confidence.

Dear Lord, thank you for the covenant of marriage. Thank you that it represents the wondrous relationship between you, the Holy Bridegroom and your cherished bride, the church. Father, I desire that relationship, both between you and I, and myself and my husband. Lord, I pray that you would give me a marriage that reflects this glorious covenant. Dear Lord, Please search me, and know my heart; try me, and know my thoughts, and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting.. (Psalm 139:23,24) Lord, as you work out this covenant relationship between my husband and I, I acknowledge that the change needs to begin with me. Romans 8:26,27 Likewise, the Spirit also helps our infirmity; for we know not what we should pray for as we ought, but the Spirit (himself) makes intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered. And he that searches the hearts knows what is the mind of the Spirit because he makes intercession for the saints according to the will of God.

Dear Lord, I come to you pouring out my heart, not really knowing how to pray. Lord, thank you that your Spirit intercedes on my behalf. Holy Spirit, please continue to take these fragments of prayers and weave them into powerful effectual prayers that avail much. Lord, quiet my heart, and soul, my mind and my spirit so that I can close the door on everything else, including me, and be truly alone with you. Dear Lord, Please give me a new song. I confess to you any staleness that I have allowed to encompass my soul and my spirit. Lord, please banish the staleness that I have allowed to encompass my soul and my spirit. Lord, please banish the staleness within me, and fill me with songs of praise for you. Day 8

Revelation 2:4,5 “Nevertheless, I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. Remember, therefore, from where thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works.”

Dear Lord, thank you that you have created marriage as a symbol of the relationship that you desire with your church. Lord, please reveal to me in my relationship with my husband, any ways in which I have left my first love, perhaps not physically, but emotionally or spiritually. Father, I repent of every attitude from complacency to hostility that prevents me from freely giving my husband the love that only You can give him through me. Father, please cleanse me and revive my heart, soul, mind and body for a bride’s love for her husband. Dear Lord, thank you that your Word tells me that you know what I need. Lord, reveal to me ways in which I have placed expectations on my husband that only you can fill. Lord, give me the grace to free him of my expectations. Lord, I commit all of my expectations to you. Thank you, Lord, that as I rest in the sufficiency of your love, I can be a contented bride.

FOR MY HUSBAND:

Concerning discouragement:

“We are pressed on every side by troubles, but not crushed and broken. We are perplexed because we don’t know why things happen as they do, but we don’t give up and quit. Dear Lord, thank you that you invite me to simply come to you in prayer, but I confess that often when I pray for my husband I have the wrong motive. Lord, forgive me for praying for my marriage with the motive of changing my husband to suit my selfish desire or on my own narrow timetable. Lord, I ask that you give me complete, unconditional love for my husband. Lord, I acknowledge that you are the author and finisher of my husband's faith and I simply commit him to you. Father give me the grace to love my husband just the way he is. Lord, please make me a loving bride.

Dear Lord, thank you for my husband’s good qualities, those wonderful qualities that attracted me to him early in our relationship. Lord, I confess that I have been judging what I see as his negative qualities, both in my head, and just as often from my lips. Lord, I know that my job is to simply love him. Lord, please take my every thought captive to obedience under you and help me to think on my husband’s good qualities and release all of my negative thoughts regarding my husband to you. Lord, please make me a bride overflowing with gratitude for that which you have given me in my husband.

Dear Lord, forgive me for the times when I have not shown proper respect for my husband, this man who You loved and valued so much that You died for him. Lord, I ask that you would enlighten the eyes of my heart so that I might see my husband through your eyes and give him the respect that he deserves from me. Lord, please make me a respectful bride.

Day 13

Hebrews 12:15 “Looking diligently lest any man fail of the grace of God, lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and by it many be defiled...”

Dear Lord, how imperceptibly those flares of anger take comfortable root within me and rot my mind and body and spirit as they settle and fester like a malignant vine, going down deep and choking out life and establishing a stronghold as an evil root of bitterness. Lord, by the light of your spirit reveal to me the remnants of anger, unforgiveness and bitterness within my soul and purge them from me, as a gardener purges every root of a persistent, bitter herb. Lord, by your grace cleanse me and heal me. As I continue to abide in you, quicken my spirit to keep minute accounts of anger, confessing them and yielding them to you before they take root. Lord, please make me a bride freed from the root of bitterness.

Day 14

Ephesians 5:31 "For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and the two shall be one flesh."

Dear Lord, thank you that you have placed me in this role as a wife. Lord, I confess that there are times when I am prone to admonish my husband and treat him as a child. But I am not my husband's mother. You have commanded my husband to leave his mother and father, so I confess that my behavior in this regard is inappropriate and wrong in Your eyes. Lord, I ask that You remind me that I am my husband's wife; bone of his bone, flesh of his flesh, his helpmate, not his mother. Lord, please make me a helpmate bride.

Day 15

Psalm 141:3 "Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips."

Dear Lord, your Word says that the wise woman builds her house, but with her own hands the foolish one tears hers down. Father, forgive me. I have said things in the past that have torn my house down and I don't want to do this anymore. Lord, please make me conscious of the power that the words that I speak have on my husband. Let me say nothing that is not true, kind or necessary. Lord, also convict me of the tone of voice that I use in the presence of my husband. Lord, please remind me that your Word teaches that pleasant words are like a honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones. Lord, anoint the lips of this bride with gentle, careful speech.
